Objectives and Investment Policy

Objectives

Ress Life Investments A/S (the Company) invests in the secondary market for US life insurance policies and securities ensuring exposure to the secondary market for US life insurance policies.

Resscapital AB is a regulated Alternative Investment Fund Manager (the Fund Manager) which analyses large numbers of US life insurance policies and selects the most attractive, from an investment perspective, in order to acquire them.

The objective of the Company is to own a diversified life insurance portfolio in order to generate stable and attractive returns over the long term. The primary strategy is to buy and hold the insurance policies until they pay out. The return profile of life insurance portfolio is characterised by low correlation to other asset classes, which makes the strategy attractive for investors seeking risk diversification.

The Company is an alternative investment fund with a specific investment strategy which has limited liquidity and it is not suitable for investors in need of liquidity.

All returns are in US dollars and no currency hedging takes place, thus investors should take the currency risk versus their own home currency into consideration.

Investment Policy

The Company invests in the secondary market for US life insurance policies, also known as life settlements. The market offers investors the opportunity to purchase life insurance policies at a discount to face value and exists because sellers of life insurance policies receive a higher cash value than the surrender value offered by insurance companies. The investor buying the life insurance policy continues to pay premiums until the demise of the insured, at which point, the insurance company pays the face value to the investor.

To investors the key attractions with this strategy is that returns are uncorrelated to major asset classes and that it offers risk diversification for their investment portfolio.

To date, the Company has not paid any dividends and it is not forecasted that any dividends will be paid in the future.

The Company may increase its share capital until 1 September 2018 in one or several instances, up to nominally EUR 500,000,000. Every investor must as a minimum subscribe for shares of an amount of EUR 100,000. The board of directors is authorised to derogate from the proportionate pre-emption right for existing shareholders. The subscription may take place at a price which corresponds to the most recent net asset value calculation per share or higher.

Recommendation: An investment in this Company may not be suitable for investors that wish to redeem their investment within five years.

Redemptions may be made by shareholders providing a written notice, including the number of shares to be redeemed, with at least 30 days' notice before the applicable future redemption day or with 205 days' notice before the applicable future redemption day. Liquidity is therefore limited. Redemptions that are made with 30 days' notice before the applicable redemption day are subject to a redemption fee of 5% of the redemption amount. Redemptions that are made with 205 days' notice before the applicable redemption day are not subject to the redemption fee of 5%. Redemption proceeds shall be paid in US dollars within 30 days after the applicable redemption day.

Benchmark

The Company does not have a benchmark.

Risk and Reward Profile

The risk and reward profile shows the connection between risk and possible performance of an investment in the Company. The indicator is based on how the value of the Company has changed in the last three years. This Company belongs to category 3, which means lower risk for both up- and downward movements in the net asset value. Category 1 does not mean the Company is risk-free. The Company may over time move both further to the right or left on the scale. This is because the indicator is based on historical data, which is not a guarantee for future risk or performance. The current risk reward profile may not remain the same and may change over time.

The shares in the Company are listed at Nasdaq Copenhagen, but the shares may not trade regularly and are not suitable for short-term investors.

The risk and reward profile indicates the investment risk profile of the Company, but it does not indicate the risk that under extreme circumstances the Company may not be able to sell policies on the secondary market for life insurance policies and thus investors may not be able to redeem their shares (liquidity risk). The risk and reward profile does not take into account other important risk factors such as currency risk, longevity risk, operational risks, macroeconomic risks, political risks and sudden volatility in interest rates or currencies. Historical data is not an indicator for the future risk reward profile.

Further description of the various risk factors can be found in the Appendix - Risk Factors in the Information Brochure.

Charges

The charges you pay are used to cover the costs of running the Company, including the costs of marketing and distributing it. These charges reduce the potential growth of your investment. They may vary from year to year both in absolute terms and as a percentage of assets under management.

The Company will pay certain annual fees and charges to the Fund Manager, the Depository, board, auditor, market maker and day-to-day administration (ongoing charges). The ongoing charges are paid by the Company and thereby indirectly borne by the investors in the Company. The ongoing charges during the calendar year 2017 were 3.12 % of the net asset value. In addition, the Fund Manager is entitled to a performance fee, equivalent to 15% of the performance in USD above the hurdle rate (4 week US T-bill + 1%) provided the net asset value per share at the end of the performance period exceeds the high watermark NAV. The annual performance fee is capped at 1% and is paid in arrears.

Please review the Information Brochure for more details and calculation examples.

Calculation method

The two tables show the annual return in % in US dollars for the Company during the last eight years. The annual return is calculated as a net return after deducting all charges. The net asset values for all years are calculated in US dollars and investors whose home currency is not the US dollar, should consider the currency risk.
